
a story of SUCCESS

California Bears Baseball San Diego, Calif.

Total Sales	$2,700
Participants	15 players
Sales Average	$180 per seller
Program	Quick Sell Backpacks

A team of 13-year-old baseball players stepped up to the fundraising plate and hit one out of the park with RightResponse.

The California Bears traveling baseball team needed funds for rising tournament entry fees. The coaches thought the Quick Sell Backpacks would offer a great incentive for the players to get out and sell.

Players hit the field and within two weeks they penciled into the box score $2,700 in sales! The top selling player received a new wooden bat to use in an upcoming tournament.

The team said RightResponse was a welcome change from the candy and magazine fundraisers done in the past.

And they are planning to add RightResponse to the team roster, doing a fundraiser every few months to raise money for future tournaments.

“Having a product that the kids can sell and be proud of is a huge motivator.”

— Dave Palet,
California Bears coach
